What is an e-action alert?

- An e-action can be an email, online petition or other type of internet generated alert.
- An e-action alert engages and mobilizes people to do something by taking action. For example, sending an email.
- E-actions get people involved in issues that effect them or people they care about.
- A great incentive to 'taking action' is you can personalize your email message based on your individual experiences. It is a way for you to express how something impacts you or how you want to see something changed.

Why take action?

- Taking action gives you the opportunity to speak up for what you believe in.
- It's also important to take action so you can have experience in educating policy makers and advocating for something you stand for.
